

“SICK?!!! WELL YEAH!”

about me

Graphic Illustrator

Y'all right?! I'm Cerys Goulding, a design illustrator from South Wales. My work revolves around the punk aesthetic and is heavily influenced by cultural and nostalgic elements of my surroundings. I experiment with fluorescent colour palettes against my pop-punk art style, often incorporating collage and graphic design techniques, through screen print and digital/physical methods. My art is not only visually appealing, but also carries political viewpoints, especially geared towards encouraging young voters. Music has always been a huge influence for me, and my ultimate ambition is to create album covers for musicians as an example of the relationship between voice and visuals. These pieces will leave you saying, "well yeah... SICK!!"
